

KITA MITCHELL

About Kita

Kita wrote and illustrated her first work, Cindersmella, at the age of six. It was swiftly and cruelly rejected by publishers. The sequels, Repunsmell and Mouldilocks, were equally badly received. Disheartened, Kita became an animator - but the feeling she should write for children never went away.

In 2016 she completed a MA in Writing for Young People at Bath Spa University and the award-winning Grandma Dangerous series was published shortly after. Kita's latest book, The House of Secret Treasure, is available in bookshops from June 2021.

Kita enjoys cake and lives in the Vale of White Horse with four daughters, three chickens and a hamster.
